

Rio Del Lago 2023- Pre Race FAQ

Aid Stations

Q: What flavor of GU Roctane will be on course?

A: Strawberry Hibiscus (no caffeine) and Summit Tea and Lemon Berry (with caffeine).

Q: Is this a cupless race?

A: Yes, this race is cupless for cold and hot drinks. Please make sure you bring your own for these drinks (cups or spare bottles).

Q: What kind of veggie/vegan food will be available at the aid stations?

A: Wide variety of veggie and vegan options. The broth being served is vegan. JAMBARS are vegan.

Q: Will there ice at the aid stations?

A: Yes, ice will be available at all the aid stations.

Q: Will there be pop-ups at aid stations with drop bags where we can change?

A: If it rains the drop bags will be covered.

Q: Is the water at ALT from the hose or is it trucked in?

A: The water from ALT will from a food grade hose.

Course

Q: Can spectators be at no crew aid stations to cheer on runners?

A: No spectators and no crew at aid stations that indicate no crew. Failure to comply, results in automatic disqualification.

Q: Is it reasonable to wear road shoes for the entire course?

A: Yes, the whole course can be run in road shoes. On the flip side, the whole course can be run in trail shoes. Wear the shoes you have been training with. If you want to have options, there is room in the provided drop bag for a pair of shoes.

Q: Are there any gear/kit requirements for overnight hours?

A: There is no required gear. A headlamp plus spare batteries is strongly recommended. Check the weather and use common sense. It can get cold at night. Bring items to layer! Gloves and a beanie are not a bad idea!

Q: Is the downloadable course map updated to reflect any course changes up to this point?

A: The course map is up to date with the current course and available for download. On race day, make sure to follow the course markings and use common sense.

Q: Are trekking poles allowed?

A: No trekking poles. No hiking poles. No ski poles. No poles.

Rio Del Lago 2023- Pre Race FAQ

Q: How long is the “Meat Grinder” section?

A: Depends on who you talk to and how you define it. 😊 In my opinion it goes from Los Logos to Sterling Point which is about 2 miles.

Q: How will the course be marked?

A: Orange trail tape with reflective ends.

Q: Is there a one-page course overview available?

A: Narrative of the course is here: <http://www.rio100mile.com/#theCourse>

Q: Are there any creek crossings?

A: Yes, as you go up Waterfall trail about 3 miles from the ALT aid station there is a creek crossing.

Q: What is cell reception like on the course?

A: Good in nearly all areas. Poor in the area approaching and at the Rattlesnake Bar aid station. Also is not so good in the area near ALT. Depending on your carrier, Cool and No Hands Bridge may be spotty.

Misc

Q: Do we have to pay for parking?

A: Runners will get one parking pass to use for parking overnight at Beal’s. Crews must pay for parking at the State Parks. Envelopes will be provided at packet pick up and are also available at the pay stations in each park. The State Park Fee is $12. If you purchase a pass on Saturday it will be good for Sunday as well. You will need to place the ticket stub on your dash board at all times.

Q: Can my pacer have a drop bag?

A: No. If they need something, they should put it in your drop bag or carry it.

Q: Where can my pacer start?

A: The pacers must first sign a waiver (at either PPU on Friday, or at Beals on Saturday between 10AM and 10PM), and receive their bib. Pacers can ONLY join a runner at the Overlook on the outbound (mile 45.22), Cool Fire Station (mile 69.13) on the inbound/return, the Overlook on the inbound/return (mile 76.83) and also at Rattlesnake Bar (mile 86.01)

Q: Can my pacer be on a bicycle?

A: No. Pacers cannot be on horse/animal, bicycle (electric or non-electric), scooter or roller skates/blades. Paces can only be on foot with the runner.

Q: If I miss the cutoff, can I continue on my own?

A: No. This is a liability to you and as well as the race. We cannot let you proceed on, as the course will be swept by our sweepers and all ribbons will be pulled from the course. We cannot let anyone proceed on. If you choose to do this, despite being told not to, you will be banned from all NorCalUltra races.
